

I'm a flight attendant and believe that allowing cell phone use is the biggest mistake you could make! You are going to see alot of "air rage" if you allow it. People already get irritated over people talking loud w/o cell phone. They also don't want to hear everyone's business. People come onboard to relax and/or work, and they don't want to have to listen to alot of conversation.